

Nationwide List of Ichinomiya(一宮)

- This list was created using Dai-Nihon Ichinomiya ki and Report on Shikinaisha, as well as the other lists of ichinomiya in other sources.
- The order of provinces in this list follows that of the Gokishichidō (five provinces and seven circuits consisted of Kinai, Tōkaidō, Tōzandō, Hokurikudō, San'indō, San'yodō, Nankaidō and Saikaidō) used under the ritsuryō system throughout the pre-modern period.
- Some ichinomiya(the most prominent shrines in each province) changed at various times on account of power shifts or other reasons. Several shrines in the same province were occasionally called ichinomiya at the same time when all of them enjoyed equal esteem. Or, in some provinces, the original ichinomiya became unknown to people with the passage of time. Accordingly, although several shrines may still be identified as ichinomiya, it is impossible to decide which are the originals. For this reason, some provinces have multiple ichinomiya on this list.
- The numbers correspond to those on the map. In cases where a province contains several ichinomiya, they are indicated as 1-A or 1-B on the map, according to their order on the list.
